

Workshop Youth, gender and security

Observatory on Gender and Armed Violence (OGAV/CES)

Humanities, Migrations and Peace Studies (NHUMEP/CES)

Coimbra University

PUC-São Paulo, Brazil, 12 April 2011

On 12 April 2011, the research group on Humanities, Migrations and Peace Studies (NHUMEP/CES) will held the seminar “Youth, Gender and Security”, at PUC-São Paulo University. This seminar, included in the research project Initiative for Peacebuilding Early Warning (IfP-EW) (<http://www.ifp-ew.eu/>), aims to present and discuss the main findings of the project, especially the interactions between violences (authors, victims and strategies), youth and gender in societies living in contexts of war and/or peace, through the case studies of Brasil, Colombia, El Salvador and Portugal.

Venue: Pontificia Universidade Católica de São Paulo
Rua Monte Alegre, 984 – Perdizes – São Paulo – SP
Auditorium 100 (Ricardo Sayeg), 1st floor, Edifício Reitor Bandeira de Mello

10h - 10h45 | Sex-based strategies of violent mobilization and terror in El Salvador.

Sílvia Roque (OGAV/NHUMEP/CES)

10h45 - 11h30 | Experiences of memory recovery: the case of Ruta Pacifica de Mujeres (Colombia)

Carla Afonso (OGAV/NHUMEP/CES)

11h30 - 12h15 | Sexing the gun: Masculinities, Femininities and firearms in Portugal

Rita Santos (OGAV/NHUMEP/CES)

12h15-13h | Debate

15h – 15h45 | Interrupted lives and (re)constructed identities around grief as a result of gun violence . The case of Rio de Janeiro

Tatiana Moura (OGAV/NHUMEP/CES)

16h – 17h45 | Exhibition of the documentary “Luto como Mãe”, by Luís Carlos Nascimento

| Debate, with the participation of the executive producers Carla Afonso and Tatiana Moura.

18h | Book launch Novíssimas Guerras: Espaços, Identidades e Espirais da Violência Armada, by Tatiana Moura

Reginaldo Mattar Nasser (PUC São Paulo)

